2021 was a tumultuous and transformational year for the world. This year brought us a life-saving vaccine, more climate change disasters than ever before, and an alarming rise in food insecurity. Foundation Beyond Belief has always worked to give assistance to those in need, but faced with the current world situation, FBB has launched a supercharged collection of programs poised to meet the increased need for food, water, and other basic necessities. Together, we continue to support communities across the globe. Our mission is to make it possible for everyone to face life knowing that they will have food, water, and shelter.

FBB believes in impact first and foremost by providing critical resources where they’re needed, when they’re needed, to the people who need them most. With the escalating prevalence of environmental disasters, people helping people across communities has become more important than ever. As a community, we are united in the effort to provide that assistance through funding and by coordinating local, direct response in our diverse and beautiful communities.

Despite the uncertainty in the world, FBB has made incredible strides to combat food insecurity and provide sustenance to communities. We believe in access to basic necessities and equality for all people. And while the world may be in a perpetual state of uncertainty, the dedication we all share ensuring no human goes without will never waver — leading to fuller bellies, fuller hearts, and fuller lives for everyone.
We put the "human" in humanism.
A Letter From Our Executive Director

2021 has been a time of transition, progress, and impact for Foundation Beyond Belief. With your support, we have worked relentlessly towards our mission to end poverty and hunger, promote good health and well-being, and foster employment opportunities and economic growth in ways that exemplify humanist values. Because of you, FBB has substantially improved our current programs while launching brand new initiatives that achieve sustainable impact.

Poverty and Hunger

In 2021, your support helped us to feed countless individuals and families. Through the Compassionate Impact Grant, we tackled both hunger and climate change by redistributing food that would otherwise go to waste.

Under the Beyond Belief Network, we launched the Food Security Project, which has provided consistent and life-saving sustenance to those in need. In 2022, and with your help, FBB will continue to increase our impact by funding healthy and sustainable food options through the Compassionate Impact Grant. Additionally, your donations will sponsor an ever-growing number of teams in both the Beyond Belief Network and Food Security Project; moving forward together, we can expand the number of families we feed all over the world.

Good Health and Well-Being

In times of disaster, basic supplies such as food and water become inaccessible, exacerbating damage to individuals, families, and communities. In these situations, disaster preparedness and quick local response can save countless lives. This year, your support made it possible for us to kickstart the infrastructure necessary for Beyond Belief Network teams to react in real-time through our Humanist Disaster Recovery program. In 2021, your generosity helped our local teams to quickly provide critical supplies during disasters, including the winter storm in Texas and the earthquake in Haiti. In 2022 and beyond, your donations will ensure that teams are prepared to provide life-saving supplies in times of need.

Employment Opportunities and Economic Growth

Finally, this year, your support has helped us to move our Humanist Action Ghana program towards independence. In 2013, Humanist Action Ghana launched with the mission to make a difference in the lives of Ghanaian women and girls by ending the cycle of gender inequality, child marriage, teenage pregnancy, poverty, and witchcraft accusations. In the years since, your donations have provided the funding necessary to offer alternative education and financial autonomy to individuals through vocational training. Because of your generosity, 2021 saw the successful graduation of students in Cape Coast, Ghana and the program’s achievement of independent NGO status. In 2022, FBB’s Program Administrator, Yvonne Stennicke Larsen, will take over as Executive Director of Humanist Action Ghana and grow the program in the underserved region of Tamale.

Your generosity and support has made this all possible—creating a better, fuller, and more equitable world for everyone. Thank you.

Ending Poverty and Hunger
Compassionate Impact Grant

Our much-anticipated plans to launch a high-impact grant program have come to fruition. In 2021, we rolled out our new, super-sized Compassionate Impact Grant (CIG), which will substantively amplify the work of charities chosen for their ingenious and effective solutions to local need. The bigger, bolder CIG is now a multi-year $150,000 grant program awarded annually to an organization that addresses critical community problems in our mission areas through evidence-based and culturally responsible social innovations.

The first recipient of our Compassionate Impact Grant is making major strides toward ending poverty and hunger through cutting-edge, sustainable food rescue programs. Food Rescue Alliance (FRA) is an international network of food rescue initiatives with 32 member organizations using open-source logistics software to carry out more than 90,000 food rescues and counting. FRA members redistribute over 20 million pounds of food to over 600,000 food insecure people annually — food that would otherwise go to waste. Through your support of CIG, you will be helping FRA ratchet up its software to connect volunteers to farms and restaurants with food that can be diverted from waste to food insecure households.

CIG is a game-changer that is pushing Food Rescue Alliance towards a tantalizing goal: growing from an under-resourced peer learning alliance to a powerful collective with leverage over the root causes of food insecurity.
Access to healthy food is not a privilege but a fundamental human right. We work to produce health equity and give low-income populations choice in their food systems.

"We advocate for system change and work to address root causes of food insecurity through a variety of ways. We will not settle for injustice."

- Food Rescue Alliance
As the economic fallout from the COVID-19 pandemic lingered into 2021, Foundation Beyond Belief launched an ambitious new program to tackle food insecurity through our Beyond Belief Network volunteer teams. Our five pilot teams organize food distribution programs in their communities, creating programs tailored to the unique needs of food insecure people in their regions.

Through backpack programs for kids; hot meal distributions for unhoused people; mobile food pantries; and more, these teams are filling bellies and changing lives. The Food Security Project (FSP) provides monthly grants to increase the capacity of these teams to meet the needs of hungry people — and the impact has been astounding. Launched in May, already our FSP teams have fed thousands of households and distributed tens of thousands of pounds of food. In 2022, with your continued support, we’ll multiply the number of teams in the program, including the addition of international teams.

We know that assisting people with access to food does more than stop the pangs of hunger: when people don’t have to worry about whether their stomachs are full, they can spend their time building healthy, full lives.
For poor and working people living in Los Angeles, survival is precarious. Getting food to them is simply the right thing to do. That I get to go home knowing I helped a stranger that day is a huge bonus.

- Marit, Atheists United
With 8 to 12 food security events every month, ACPC’s programs include a mobile food pantry, a backpack program for kids, and a meal prep and delivery program.

Atheists United partners with the Los Angeles Food Bank to distribute thousands of pounds of food, pet food, and other necessities at their monthly distribution events.

Austin Atheists works to support the needs of unhoused people. They provide 250 to 300 individuals with food and other necessities at their distribution events every month.

ATXHAW supports 225 to 250 people through a monthly food giveaway. With COVID, they added 4 monthly distributions of 15-lb bags of food, feeding another 100 people.

HSGP started serving and preparing food for unhoused and food insecure people in 2020. In 2021, they launched weekly food giveaway events to reach more people.

Humanist Grants

For over a decade, your support has provided more than $1.02M through Humanist Grants (HG) to 177 organizations making substantive change all over the globe in myriad areas including poverty, health, human rights, and the natural world. By investing in sustainable, locally led solutions to problems faced by vulnerable communities, HG has made positive improvements in the health and well-being of countless children, adults, and families. In 2021, we amplified this work in a big way by transforming HG into a high-impact, multi-year Compassionate Impact Grant (see page 13) which will ensure even more progress on our key SDG focus areas.

For FBB’s final, concluding class of Humanist Grants recipients, we returned to eight of our best-performing grantees from years past. You gave $40,000 to high-performing programs working to end child marriage; reverse rainforest deforestation; free low-income individuals who are wrongly incarcerated; protect the livelihoods of communities by preserving local ecosystems; and much more. Together in 2022, through our Compassionate Impact Grant, even greater progress is on the horizon.

Beyond Belief Network

Beginning in 2011 with five volunteer teams, the Beyond Belief Network (BBN) has expanded to more than 100 teams in 27 states and seven countries — growing not just in number but in impact as well. Initially envisioned as a program to encourage volunteering in the humanist community, BBN has taken on an increasing role in implementing direct service programs that make measurable progress on our SDG goals. A growing number of teams are making major strides toward eliminating poverty and hunger through our newly launched Food Security Project (see page 18).

The efficacy of our teams working on improving good health and well-being through Humanist Disaster Recovery (see page 33) as well as unique local programs addressing local needs ramped up substantially in 2021 as your generosity provided them with critical grant funding. The diversity of projects our BBN teams engaged in this year has been impressive: planting trees; supporting adaptive sports; cleaning parks; combating sex trafficking; restoring degraded habitats; and much more, BBN teams are contributing to fuller lives with full hearts all over the world every day.
New Orleans Secular Humanist Association (NOSHA) participated in a socially-distanced tree planting event with Sustaining Our Urban Landscape (SOUL). SOUL drives a resilient and environmentally equitable New Orleans by reforesting its urban landscape. NOSHA was part of an initiative that planted over 375 trees — a quarter of SOUL’s goal of 1,500 for the season. NOSHA also continued their weekly food distribution meetup.

Humanists Doing Good volunteered at a local food bank in a rather unique way in February: rather than packaging food, they helped improve the facilities by painting cabinets and shelves. They also volunteered twice more in February at a second site — a location where they have contributed 101 hours since April 2020.
Northwestern Chicagoland Humanist Crew (NCHC) ran a bra drive in August for Free the Girls, an organization helping women rescued from sex trafficking to reintegrate into communities. NCHC collected 31 bras (and some cash), which will go into an inventory held by Free the Girls. Beneficiaries can acquire bras from this inventory to sell them and bring in income for themselves and their families! NCHC also ran in a 5k supporting Lake Country Haven (a shelter for women and children) and made blankets for a local hospice.

Central Ohio United Non-Theists (COUNT) volunteered in multiple events with Adaptive Sports Connection, which supports adaptive athletes participating in their favorite sports, including kayaking, skiing, and sailing. COUNT also prepared and served food for a local shelter, and continued their quarterly blood donation meetup.

Humanist Disaster Recovery

Disaster preparedness and quick local response save countless lives. That’s why in 2021, Foundation Beyond Belief began transforming its Humanist Disaster Recovery (HDR) program to support Beyond Belief Network teams already present and working in impacted areas. These teams are in the best position to provide immediate, direct aid to people who would otherwise fall through the cracks. Ensuring good health and well-being means ensuring vulnerable people get their basic needs met despite the challenges of broken infrastructure and supply lines that occur in times of disaster. This year, our local teams rose to meet those challenges.

Through HDR in 2021, you raised $31,099 for locally led humanist disaster recovery work in marginalized communities during some of the worst disasters on record. With your ongoing support, we will continue to expand our capacity for direct BBN team responses to prevent and respond to major disasters.
You invested $11,246 in Haiti.

On August 14th, Haiti was impacted by an earthquake of 7.2 magnitude. The tragedy displaced, injured, and took the lives of tens of thousands of people.

In the days after the earthquake, Haiti was also impacted by Tropical Storm Grace. The storm, in the aftermath of the earthquake, caused further damage and devastation, complicating relief efforts. Our Miami-based BBN team Haitian Freethinkers (HFT), with family and connections in Haiti, was able to organize an impactful response. Together with HFT and our partner, the American Humanist Association, you invested $11,246 in recovery efforts in Haiti through Mouvement de la Jeunesse pour la Liberté de la Pensée en Haiti (MOJELIPH) and Doctors Without Borders.
“People who live in rural areas in Haiti are abandoned and neglected. The people in the countryside need aid, but there is an absence of state authorities. The rural earthquake victims are desperate for aid. The money from FBB will save them.”

- Billy Almoza, Mouvement de la Jeunesse pour la Liberté de la Pensée en Haiti
Your donations helped MOJELIPH purchase basic necessities such as bags of rice, peas, oil, water, masks, sanitizer, and bottles of alcohol for disinfection. MOJELIPH was able to support more than 60 families who were victims of the earthquake.

Through Doctors Without Borders, you are providing medical aid and supplies, emergency drinking water and sanitation, and other basic services to thousands of affected people.
In mid-February, deadly Winter Storm Uri left more than 5.1 million people without heat and power and caused extreme subzero temperatures in regions unaccustomed to freezing weather. With post-COVID evictions contributing to rising rates of homelessness, thousands of unhoused people faced life threatening conditions.

Our Beyond Belief Network teams in the affected region work throughout the year to provide necessities to people experiencing homelessness. When the freezing weather crisis hit, you made certain our teams had enough supplies, particularly cold weather gear, to aid this vulnerable population. You rushed $19,843 in grants to local BBN teams to keep people warm and safe throughout the cold-weather months. Because of you, our teams saved lives this winter.
"We haven't had electricity or water for days. I've lost count now. I spent all yesterday looking for firewood. It's been 49 degrees inside my house and we were freezing. I cannot imagine how miserable unsheltered people are."

- Lynn, Organizer for Austin Atheists Helping the Homeless
Your donations supported five BBN teams in providing hotel rooms, tents, sleeping bags, food, toiletry kits, and other basic necessities for unhoused people and survivors of domestic violence impacted by Winter Storm Uri.

Teams that responded to Uri include:
- Austin Atheists Helping the Homeless
- Austin Humanists at Work
- Fellowship of Freethought Dallas
- Freethought Association of Central Texas

Decent Work and Economic Growth
Humanist Action Ghana

Humanist Action Ghana (HA Ghana) is working to enrich communities by empowering women through community-based, Ghanaian-led training programs. When women flourish, their communities thrive! By improving access to sustainable livelihoods, HA Ghana is making strides to end child marriage, teenage pregnancy, witchcraft accusations, and poverty. In 2021, all ten of our trainees successfully graduated from their vocational training program in Cape Coast with the skills and equipment necessary to work as professional tailors. Since graduation, Ghanaian trainers in the program have experienced an uptick in customers while students have taken on paid apprenticeships under their former trainers.

With your support, Humanist Action Ghana continues to move toward its original humanist vision of a fully independent Ghanaian organization and in September received official NGO status. For 2022, the program will move to Tamale in Northern Ghana, a region with historically high rates of gender inequality, generational poverty, and witchcraft accusations, where economic empowerment for women is most needed.
"I wanted this program to be not just about alleviating poverty but to also empower women in every single way possible. Looking at the pride and confidence with which our graduate trainees showed off their final designs, I know we have done just that."

- Yvonne Stennicke Larsen, Humanist Action Ghana Administrator
